Background

Indraprastha Institute of Information Technology, Delhi (IIIT Delhi) was created as a State University by an act of Delhi Government (The IIIT Delhi Act, 2007) empowering it to do research and development and grant degrees. The mission of IIIT-Delhi is to be a global center of excellence in Information Technology education, training and research. Its twin aims are:

- To carry out advanced research and development in information and software technologies, and in leveraging IT in specific domain areas.
- To train and educate, at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels, engineers of outstanding ability who can become innovators and new product creators.

The institute began with its first batch of 60 B.Tech students in 2008. Since then, it has come a long way with 40+ excellent faculty members specializing in diverse areas of Computer Science & Engineering (CSE) and Electronics & Communication Engineering (ECE), and over 900 students consisting of about 650 B.Tech. students, about 200 M. Tech. students, and about 75 Ph.D. scholars. In a relatively short time, it has earned a good reputation in India and abroad for being a centre of quality education and research in IT. The institute is approved by UGC and AICTE. In a short duration it has emerged as the country's leading institute for IT education and research.

Infrastructure and facilities

IIIT Delhi has been operating from its permanent campus in Okhla, Phase III, since August 2012. The 25 acre campus, has facilities for teaching and research, hostels for both boys and girls and provisions for sports. The Academic Complex has a total of 10 lecture halls. There are two lecture halls with a capacity to seat 180, one of capacity 160, two of capacity 60 and five of capacity 30. The Faculty and Research wing has a capacity of 50 faculty offices and 8 research labs, along with the PhD rooms and M.Tech labs. The Library and Information Center has a common study area for students on the ground floor, the library is located on the first floor and also has several labs on the upper floors.

The vibrant and colourful Dining and Recreation Centre houses the student's mess, a cafeteria and facilities for extracurricular activities, such as a music room, table tennis and pool tables, and a gymnasium. The hostel area consists of a Boys' and Girls' hostel with a total capacity of around 550 students. The hostels have options of single, double and triple occupancy rooms, all of which are air conditioned. The hostels have their own badminton courts and a well-equipped common room. Infrastructure to support high quality research includes an internet access of 1 Gbps bandwidth; a data centre with 40 servers and 45TB storage, latest software and peripherals. With over 18 clubs to choose from and two extremely popular academic and cultural fests the students at IIITD are highly motivated and holistic in their pursuit of excellence. The institute recently organized an independent TEDxIIITD bringing the finest young leaders and their ideas worth spreading to the campus.

More information about the campus and student life is available on the institute's website <http://www.iiitd.ac.in/facilities>

About the programs

The main objectives of its B.Tech. programs are to prepare students to undertake high end careers involving innovation and problem solving using IT, or to go for advanced studies for research and academic careers.

Our distinctive vision is how we propose to integrate the two fundamental streams of IT – Computer Science and Electronics and Communications Engineering, to mutual benefit. We fundamentally believe that our technological era is rich with creative opportunities for those who create new applications based on systems integration of existing technology components, in addition to creation of new frontiers of engineering knowledge. The curricular structure supports this vision.

The first year program is common for both CSE & ECE to allow flexibility to students in moving from one stream to the other. As the Institute is focused around these two disciplines, unlike an engineering institute which normally starts with courses in physics, chemistry, etc, in the first year of the BTech program, at IIIT-Delhi students do courses related to programming and hardware, as well as in Maths, Communication skills, etc. The second year program comprises mostly of core courses for the two disciplines. Third year onwards the program is flexible comprising of electives, which may be organized as streams. Flexible course options (electives) in the 3rd and 4th year allow students control over choice of specialized ‘tracks’ in accordance with their interests; in conjunction with 4th year projects and design oriented classes. Students can choose their discipline courses from a large number of choices offered (over 50). Students can also choose their open electives from a range of courses that are offered, both within and outside their discipline. To provide a broad-based development, students also do some Humanities and Social Sciences courses from a set of courses that are made available. We believe that it provides the necessary depth and broad systems-centric educational experience for long-term success in the emerging cutting-edge industries in the field of IT. For more information on the programs, please visit <http://www.iiitd.ac.in/education/btech>. For more information about the range of courses available, please visit <http://www.iiitd.ac.in/education/courses>

Faculty

The quality of an Institute is largely determined by the quality of its faculty. IIIT-Delhi boasts of faculty which is as good as those in the IITs. It has about 40 full time faculty members, all of whom are PhD from fine institutions across the world, with about two thirds having PhD from US and Europe. The regular faculty is supported by visiting faculty and guest faculty for teaching courses. There are a number of adjunct faculty from industry as well as other Institutions. Besides excellence in teaching there is a committed pursuance of high quality research and innovation. The faculty and the institute benefit from a thriving relationship with both the industry as well as leading government research agencies. The students get exposure to both excellent teaching learning pedagogy deployed by the faculty as well as an opportunity to be trained by and collaborate with accomplished researchers in their disciplines. To see a list of faculty members, visit: <http://www.iiitd.ac.in/faculty>

Placements

IIIT Delhi students enjoy the best combination of strong technical background and excellent soft skills, and continue to witness impressive placement statistics. For all the batches that have graduated so far, the average compensation has been over Rs 8 Lac and average salary of last batch is Rs 9.8Lac, which compares favorably with the best in the country. Visit the placement page for more information: <http://www.iiitd.ac.in/placement>

Research

Excellence in research is essential for an Institute to gain global stature. IIIT Delhi is a research-led Institute of higher education with strong focus on research. It has built strong research groups, some of whom are already amongst the largest in India. The institute has received about 11 crores as research funds from DIT, DST, Nokia, SAP, Microsoft, IKSL, National Geographic Society, TCS, Indo-US Science and Technology Forum, etc. Currently the main research groups include Image Analysis and Biometrics, Mobile and Ubiquitous Computing, Software Engineering & Programming Languages, Wireless Systems, Advanced Electronic Systems, Information Security and Privacy, Information Management and Data Analytics, Theoretical Computer Science, GeoInformatics, Signal Processing and Scalable Systems. The institute has embedded research based project work in the undergraduate program.
